CALL FOR PROPOSALS

Paper and poster proposals are now being accepted for CBHD's 32nd annual summer conference

The Center for Bioethics & Human Dignity invites healthcare and other professionals, scholars, researchers, educators, and students to submit abstracts of papers that address questions associated with our conference theme—Living in the Biotech Century: The First 25 Years—or that engage more broadly with other foundational and emerging bioethical issues raised at the intersections of medicine, science, technology, and our common humanity.

Topics:

All serious proposals relevant to the study of bioethics are welcome, particularly those in the following subject areas:

- General Bioethics
- Biolaw
- Biotechnology
- Clinical Ethics
- Disability
- Emerging Issues in Bioethics
- Empirical Research
- End of Life Issues
- Global Bioethics
- Medical Humanities
- Nursing Ethics
- Philosophical Engagement
- Public Health
- Public Policy
- Research Ethics
- Technology Assessment
- Theological Engagement
- Women's Health
